

Contents

Acknowledgements	iii
Foreword	viii
Making it right: employing creative UX research methods for richer engagement Andy Priestner	1
From participation to inclusion: tackling barriers to inclusion in UX research Dr Victoria Olaniyan	31
Design, align, combine: getting buy-in for your great ideas Emma Thompson	44
More than just working together: reflections on UX work and collaboration (or: It's not just you) Shelley Gullikson	50
Be your most disruptive self: collective action in experience and design Dr Arun Verma	61
The long and winding road: inclusion in UX data and recruitment Anna-Lena Kleinert and Eve Jamieson	75
When you wish upon a stall: toilet facilities as a factor in library satisfaction among trans and gender nonconforming users Hannah Jones	87
We're the problem: mapping our way out of printing purgatory Joshua J. Herter	94
'We don't start with Library': students interviewing students about using the Library website Gopal Dutta	102
The Dutch University Libraries (UB) UX Community formerly known as the UXLib-NL Marjanne Goossens and Larissa Tijsterman	117

Stronger together: building a UX Community of Practice Alison Sharman	135
Collaborating with a team of student volunteers on UX projects or... How to kill two birds with one stone SuHui Ho	150
Embedding collaboration into improving the student library experience Nia Ellis	158
Friends with benefits – creating strategic alliances and pushing collaborative boundaries at Linnaeus University Emelie Ugglä Waldenström and Johanna Palm	165
An advisory board by any other name: embedding UX and cultivating engagement through a user working group turned homegrown student organization Amanda Kraft	176
Supporting critical UX at a large diverse university Michael J. Aguilar II, Sharesly Rodriguez and Laurel Eby	183
How to make a grand entrance Libby Tilley and Louise Williams	194
Sharing the love of reading from park bench to park bench: the story of an external collaboration focused on enabling readers to connect in public spaces Kelly Henderson	211
The experience of non-users and ex-users of the Jagodina Public Library – sparking interest in the Library Jelena Rajić	227
‘From problem to prototype’ – using a service design course to bridge gaps within a university Ingela Wahlgren	238
Understanding the use of physical spaces in the library: a collaborative approach Karina Arrambide	245

From invisible to popular: how we used UX methods to increase attendance to a library course by 692%	253
Gunvor Bjerkelund Røkke and Maria Sindre
Coming Together: the UX in Libraries 7 team challenge	273
Andy Priestner
Workshops:
Communicating the benefits of UX to everyone who needs to hear it	291
Ned Potter
UX research in the Metaverse?	300
Victor Alfson
Taking UX beyond the library (a.k.a. Timetabling was never on my bucket list)	306
Sarah Halliday and Pete Hanna
Storytelling with data	314
Larissa Tijsterman
Exploring student experience through creativity	325
Sebastian May
Punching Up: boxing and librarianship – a different UX perspective	335
Jane Burns
Perspectives from delegates with sponsored places:
A journey of discovery	350
Richard Pecout	